

CTMA Model Portfolios—2020

We continue to position the portfolios' assets across the world markets. We believe assets should be diversified and invested in areas where the demographics and economies are positioned to grow. We also believe, investments, overtime return to their historical averages.

Gold has been added to the portfolios as a hedge against the U.S. Debt ($22 trillion and counting). We removed short term treasuries as the income from cash like investments has declined.

AGGRESSIVE MODEL

This portfolio should be viewed as an aggressive long term investment. Using low-cost Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), the Aggressive Growth Portfolio is primarily designed for capital appreciation with domestic and International equity exposure. Its broad range of asset categories provides exposure to higher risk market opportunities globally holding through economic cycles.

Annual Allocation Review: The positions and security weightings are realigned annually to meet the objective of the portfolio and factor in the current economic and market environment.

Monthly Rebalancing: The portfolio is rebalanced monthly to take advantage of the opportunity to sell high, buy low and lower volatility.

Who should consider this portfolio: An investor who has a long term time frame, can tolerate volatility and seeks capital appreciation. The account will have volatility. Please see reverse side for the portfolio allocation.
