

CTMA Holdings LLC
d/b/a: CTMA Wealth Management
May 12, 2020
FORM CRS

CTMA Wealth Management is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser and, as such, we provide advisory services rather than brokerage services. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you, our client, to understand the differences. Additionally, free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing. This document is a summary of the services and fees we offer to "retail" investors, which are natural persons who seek or receive services primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer the following investment advisory services to retail investors: Portfolio Management Services; Financial Planning Services; Advisory Services to Retirement Plans and Plan Participants that includes Pension Consulting Services and Advisory Consulting Services. Detailed information regarding our services, fees and other disclosures can be found in our Form ADV Part 2A by clicking the following link <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/157855>. Refer to Item 4, 7, 13 and 16.

Account Monitoring If you open an investment account with our firm, as part of our standard service we will monitor your investments on an ongoing basis.

Investment Authority We manage investment accounts on a discretionary basis whereby we will decide which investments to buy or sell for your account. You may limit our discretionary authority (for example, limiting the types of securities that can be purchased or sold for your account) by providing our firm with your restrictions and guidelines in writing. We also offer non-discretionary investment management services whereby we will provide advice, but you will ultimately decide which investments to buy and sell for your account. You have an unrestricted right to decline to implement any advice provided by our firm on a non-discretionary basis.

Investment Offerings We offer advice on the following types of investments or products: equity securities, fixed income securities, mutual fund shares, ETFs, money market funds, option writing, REITs, interests in partnerships investing in real estate and interests in partnerships investing in oil and gas interests.

Account Minimums and Requirements In general, we do not require a minimum dollar amount to open and maintain an advisory account; however, we have the right to terminate your account if it falls below a minimum size which, in our sole opinion, is too small to manage effectively.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or Why Not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
- What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

The following summarizes the principal fees and costs associated with engaging our firm for investment advisory services. For detailed information, refer to our Form ADV Part 2A: <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/157855>.

- Asset Based Fees - Payable quarterly in advance. Since the fees we receive are asset-based (i.e. based on the value of your account), we have an incentive to increase your account value which creates a conflict especially for those accounts holding illiquid or hard-to-value assets.
- Fixed Fees - Payable as invoiced.
- Hourly Fees - Payable as invoiced.
- Commissions - We receive compensation in the form of commissions from the sale of insurance products since our firm is also a licensed insurance corporate agent. Additionally, some of our investment adviser representatives are also licensed insurance agents. This presents a conflict of interest since we have a financial incentive to sell you insurance products.
- Clients may also pay additional fees and/or expenses. Example of the most common fees and costs applicable to our clients are:
 - Custodian fees;

- Account maintenance fees;
- Fees related to mutual funds and exchange-traded funds;
- Margin related charges for purchasing securities on margin or short sales;
- Transaction charges when purchasing or selling securities; and
- Other product-level fees associated with your investments.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

In addition to our advisory fees, we make money from our investment advisory services in the following ways:

- Revenue Sharing: We have revenue sharing arrangements with insurance companies related to insurance product commissions;
- Third-Party Payments: Persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm are licensed as independent insurance agents. These persons will earn commission-based compensation for selling insurance products. Insurance commissions are separate and in addition to our advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because they have an incentive to recommend insurance products to you for the purpose of generating commissions rather than solely based on your needs.
- We do not make any money from our investment advisory services except as described above.

Refer to our Form ADV Part 2A by clicking this link <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/157855> Item 5, 10, 12 and 14 to help you understand what conflicts exist.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

The financial professional servicing your account(s) are compensated in the following ways: Salary; Bonus; and Product Sales Commissions. Financial professionals' compensation is based on the insurance products sold (i.e. differential compensation or commission) and incentive based compensation, in the form of a quarterly bonus. Incentive based compensation is contingent upon you entering into an advisory agreement with our firm. Financial professionals that are licensed certified public accountants offer accounting services for a fee that is separate and distinct from our advisory services and fees.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

No, our firm and our financial professionals currently do not have any legal or disciplinary history to disclose. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple research tool.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- As a financial professional, do you have any disciplinary history? For what type of conduct?
